UNIVERSITY of TASMANIA
A free agriculture experience for year 11 & 12 students to learn how science is solving real world challenges!

About the program
The Feed Your Mind, Feed the World (FYM) camp is a three-day experience for Year 11 and 12 students interested in learning more about agricultural science and career pathways stemming from an agricultural science degree.

The camp is hosted by the Tasmanian Institute of Agriculture (TIA), which is the agricultural research arm of the University of Tasmania and responsible for teaching the Bachelor's degree.

The FYM camp is held in North West Tasmania, allowing students to observe and interact with several diverse agricultural industries and learn about the advantages of studying agricultural science in Tasmania, including a visit to our research farms.

TIA staff members supervise students during the camp, and specific degree details and information on studying at the University of Tasmania are also provided.

Camp Dates: 3-5 December 2024.

Who can apply?
Students currently in Year 11 and year 12.

What is included in the camp?
Transport: For Tasmanian students, transport to/from Hobart, Launceston, Burnie, and Devonport will be provided.

For interstate students, transport from Hobart and Launceston airport will be provided. You will need to arrange and cover the expenses for your flights and transport to and from your home airport.

Accommodation:
Students will be staying in cabins at Camp Clayton.

Meals: All meals will be provided.

When do applications close?
Applications close at midnight on Friday, October 25, 2024.

Find more information and apply here.
